

Client Testimonial

I started this response to redundancy course with JHP Employability back in September. I was made redundant at the end of May after the company I worked for 10 years relocated to Kent. Obviously I was devastated and left with the uncertainty of where to go from here. The job centre recommended me to attend a jobs fair in Green Park Station. It was whilst there I met a lovely gentleman called Nick Vause. He had a stall set up for a response to redundancy course. Admittedly I never heard of JHP Employability before but Nick explained what they do with accuracy and precision. It seemed like a brilliant course, in fact it was outstanding. It lived up to every expectation that Nick had described.

On attending my first session I was nervous but that was quickly dispelled when I met the tutors June Barnes and Wendy Coward. They made me feel more relaxed, more at home and warmly welcomed.

I have learnt a vast amount about job application forms, writing cover letters and generally how to highlight the skills I possess, putting them to good use to attract potential employers. This course has made me learn a lot about myself and what skills I have to offer. I have to thank Nick, June and Wendy for making me realise my true potential. They all made me feel that I can do anything and everything I wanted to, for that I am truly grateful. My written and verbal communication has improved dramatically. In terms of where I was before and where I am now is a vast improvement. I'm far more confident and self assured which is a huge contrast. Once again I would like to thank Nick, June and Wendy for making every session on this course interesting, varied and hugely beneficial. I would thoroughly recommend this course to anybody and everybody.
